Dorcas R. Gilmore, Diane M. Standaert : Building Community Resilience Post-Disaster: A Guide for Affordable Housing and Community Economic Development Practitioners before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Building Community Resilience Post-Disaster: A Guide for

Affordable Housing and Community Economic Development Practitioners:

This resource provides the post-disaster legal and regulatory framework, important lessons learned from prior disasters, and tools to foster the recovery of affordable housing and community economic development. Practitioners seeking recommendations for future disaster recovery efforts will find the case studies of natural and human-made disasters and the resources section particularly helpful.
