Hudson is the recognised textbook on the interpretation and drafting of building and civil engineering contracts. As well as full coverage of English cases, it includes extensive references to Commonwealth cases and further references to US and some civil law cases. These provide a coherent set of principles to facilitate interpretation of construction contracts and help the practitioner in advising international clients.* Provides full coverage of associated areas of construction litigation* Summaries of decided cases ease the understanding of principles governing construction contracts* Examines various editions of the standard forms

A model of what a legal textbook should be. Law Society's Gazette.
