I'll be better prepared to adjust to my new settings.14 of 17 people found the following review helpful. good resourceBy KPThis is a great, easy-to-read informational guide and I particularly like the tone of the book. One can tell that the author is proud to live in Canada and that he hopes newcomers will continue to make Canada a wonderful place to live. I think anyone who is immigrating to the country will benefit from the book in a number of ways. 9 of 11 people found the following review helpful. Impressive publication By Hey This is the latest and 2nd edition of this book. Over 450 pages, jam packed with latest and updated information. A must buy guide if you are planning your future in Canada.

This book is a 3 in 1 publication. It offers a do-it-yourself kit for skilled workers under the latest Canadian immigration policy, along with a comprehensive step-by-step settlement guide for new immigrants and visitors. Finally, it provides a detailed job search guide with profession specific guidelines, addresses and tips. The do-it-yourself kit enables any skilled worker to access their eligibility and prepare their immigration application professionally without any external help. This book will provide you with an example of the alternate submission which is required if you believe that you are proficient in English and therefore do not wish to take the IELTS.) If your points are short for becoming eligible for immigration under the point system, then you will find all the available job search tools and resources in this book which will enable you to register online with thousands of Canadian and American recruiting agencies and employers for free that could result in a job offer and subsequently the 10 points towards your eligibility. You will also find the North American style resume and top interview questions asked by Canadian employers along with a practice interview example in this book. If you do not have a degree or diploma and cannot qualify for the Canadian immigration under point system yet have a 1-2 years of apprenticeship and experience in your trade with good English or French language ability, then you can apply for a Temporary Work Permit to work in Canada by securing a job offer through this job search guide. Canada issues about 90,000 temporary work permits every year which can be obtained in 3 to 6 months time. Temporary Work Permit holders could be eligible for Canadian immigration with their families after working for a certain period of time in Canada. This publication has been produced with the approval of Citizenship and Immigration Canada (CIC) and with the authorization of Public Works and Government Services Canada 350 Albert Street, 4th Floor Ottawa ON K1A 0S5.

From the Publisher This is the revised and improved version from the author with few corrections and necessary additional information. for the clients. Its old version was released in March 2003 through a different publisher but this improved and latest version is printed and released through Self-help Publishers Canada From the Author I recommend all the clients to buy my REVISED version of "Immigrating to Canada and Finding Employment" A 3 in 1 Publication" because it not only contains all the information that is in the old version but there is very important additional information which I want to deliver to the clients, so I revised this publication to deliver much more and necessary information based on reviewers feedback.....Wish you good-luck and thanks for checking it out. From the Inside Flap WHY CHOOSE CANADA? Canada has a long tradition of welcoming immigrants. Home to two official languages, English and French, Canada is also a multicultural society, with more than 17% of the population reporting a mother tongue other than English or French. During the 1990s, Canada received between 200,000 and 250,000 immigrants per year. In 2001, Canada actually exceeded its target for the first time in years with 250,346 newcomers being granted permanent resident status. This limit will be increased up to 300,000 per year to offset Canada's aging population to synchronize it to 1% of the total population. 50% of all the newcomers come to Toronto, 15% go to Vancouver and 11% to Montreal. Canada is rich, according to World Wealth Report 2001 by Cap Gemini Ernst Young, 31% of the world's millionaires live in North America while 4% in Middle East, 24% in Asia Pacific, 36% in Europe and 1% in Africa. Canadians pay $138 Billion every year through their credit card for their shopping. UN says Canada is the best country in the world! The United Nations has rated Canada several times the top country in the world for overall quality of life. Canadians enjoy a comfortable standard of living, good health care, social security, a high level of education, and a relatively safe and clean environment. The Charter of Rights and Freedoms entrenched in the Canadian constitution guarantees such fundamental rights as equality, mobility and legal rights, as well as freedom of speech, assembly and association. A 1997 survey of people in 20 countries found that the majority placed Canada in the top ten list of countries where they would like to live. Most consider Canada a generous, peaceful and compassionate nation, while they see Canadians as honest, friendly and polite. Few facts about Canada Canada is a land of great natural beauty, from the rugged shores of Newfoundland to the mild climate and beautiful mountains of the west coast. The largest country in the world, it has six time zones. With its coasts, vast forests, mountain ranges, lakes and expanses of prairies, Canada is rich in natural resources. It contains 38 national parks, more than 1000 provincial parks, and nearly 50 territorial parks. Based on the 1996 census data: about 28% of the population reported origins other than British Isles, French or Canadian recent immigrants had higher levels of education than the Canadian-born population six out of ten households owned their own home university or other post-secondary graduates represented 40% of the population over the age of 15 Canadian Students Performance. Canadian students among top in world survey. They are ranked fourth over-all in UNICEF report.
