Ray Hodgkin : Insurance Law: Text and Materials before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Insurance Law: Text and Materials:

First published in 2002. Routledge is an imprint of Taylor Francis, an informa company.

'A recurring theme of the book is law reform, including proposals which have not progressed beyond the mooting stage. This is a particularly stimulating learning tool as it enables students to analyse the law as it stands critically as well as raising awareness of possible changes to the current law. ... In conclusion, [this book] represents a work which is well written, focused and comprehensive in its coverage. This first edition can be recommended highly to lecturers and students alike ... no library collection should be without a copy.' The Law Teacher, Vol 34, No 1, 2000. About the Author Ray Hodgins is Senior Lecturer on Law, Birmingham University.
