Liam Magee : Interwoven Cities (Cities and the Global Politics of the Environment) before purchasing it in order to gauge whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Interwoven Cities (Cities and the Global Politics of the Environment):

Proposing a renovation of the metaphor of the urban fabric, Interwoven Cities develops an analysis of how cities might be woven into alternative patterns, to better sustain social and ecological life.

About the Author Liam Magee is Senior Research Fellow at the Institute for Culture and Society at the University of Western Sydney, Australia. His previous publications include Towards A Semantic Web (with W. Cope and M. Kalantzis, 2011), examining the organization of knowledge in an era of linked data and computational reasoning.
