This comprehensive guide on National Insurance Contributions is written in an easy-to-read style and with numerous worked examples, which include forms and elections. To enable the information to be kept as up-to-date as possible, the first 1998/99 publication will be a cumulative revised supplement to the main 1997-98 edition. This will be published in April, summarizing the changes up to 1998 Budget Day, including provision of the Finance (No 2) Act 1997. The main work will be published in September, to include additionally all the changes made by the 1998 Finance Act and other information up to the date of Royal Assent to that Act. There is just one price for both publications which will be charged on publication of the main 1998/99 work in September.
