From Brill - Nijhoff : Towards a Universal Justice? Putting International Courts and Jurisdictions Into Perspective before purchasing it in order to gauge whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Towards a Universal Justice? Putting International Courts and Jurisdictions Into Perspective:

The recent proliferation of international courts and jurisdictions raises a number of important issues ranging from the redefinition of the role of the International Court of Justice to the recent emergence of domestic courts as international jurisdictions. Towards a Universal Justice? Putting International Courts and Jurisdictions into Perspective, containing edited articles presented at the International Law Association's Regional Conference held in Lisbon, offers a comprehensive overview of those issues and outlines challenges ahead for every branch of international law.

About the Author Dario Manuel Lentz de Moura Vicente, born in Lisbon, Portugal, in 1962, is Professor of Private International Law, Comparative Law and Civil Law at the Faculty of Law of the University of Lisbon, where he obtained his PhD in Law and whose Institute for Juridical Cooperation he chairs. He was a Visiting Professor at The Hague Academy of International Law, the Paris V University, the Complutense University in Madrid and the Urbino University. He has also taught extensively in other Portuguese-speaking countries.
