Carrie E. Garrow, Sarah Deer : Tribal Criminal Law and Procedure (Tribal Legal Studies) before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Tribal Criminal Law and Procedure (Tribal Legal Studies):

This book examines the complex subject of tribal criminal law and procedure from a tribal perspective utilizing tribal statutory law, tribal case law, and the cultural values of Native peoples. Garrow and Deer discuss in depth the histories, structures and practices of tribal justice systems, comparisons of traditional tribal justice with Anglo-American law and jurisdictions, elements of criminal law and procedure, and alternative sentencing and traditional sanctions. Published in cooperation with the Tribal Law and Policy Institute, Tribal Criminal Law and Procedure will be an invaluable resource for legal scholars and students.

Carrie Garrow and Sarah Deers Tribal Criminal Law and Procedure is an excellent resource for students, practitioners, or anyone else seeking to understand tribal justice systems from a tribal perspective. This book successfully weaves together shared experiences of colonization as well as core criminal justice concepts to provide a broad, yet focused, treatment of the field from its history through its most recent developments. (M. Brent Leonhard, attorney, Confederated Tribes of the Umatilla Indian Reservation) This book is a must-read for tribal, federal and state practitioners, judges, officials, and citizens to understand the framework of tribal criminal law and its roots in traditional norms. From the historical to the contemporary, the authors have skillfully presented a thorough and engaging view of tribal criminal issues. (Angelique EagleWoman, Sisseton-Wahpeton Dakota, University of Idaho College of Law) Tribal Criminal Law and Procedure has proven to be an important tool for college and professional students at any level in developing the leaders and thinkers to meet these Indian country goals through the development of tribal law. Moreover, this new edition makes accessible the ongoing changes and developments in tribal, federal, and state law and policy of the last decade. The authors, leaders in the field, are to be commended and thanked for this project. (Matthew L.M. Fletcher, director of the Indigenous Law Policy Center, Michigan State University) About the Author Carrie E. Garrow is a member of the St. Regis Mohawk Tribe.
